

Business Model

Traditional Licensing and Publishing:

Developers or publishers license their titles or products to XV for servicing and publishing in designated territories or global publishing.

Distribution Channels and Billing:

XV offers a well-established and mature distribution network and payment gateways.

Our distribution channels include Convenience Store chains (CVS), wholesalers, cyber cafés, book/video stores, and our very own Virtual Shop and home delivery service.

XtraVision Interactive Entertainment

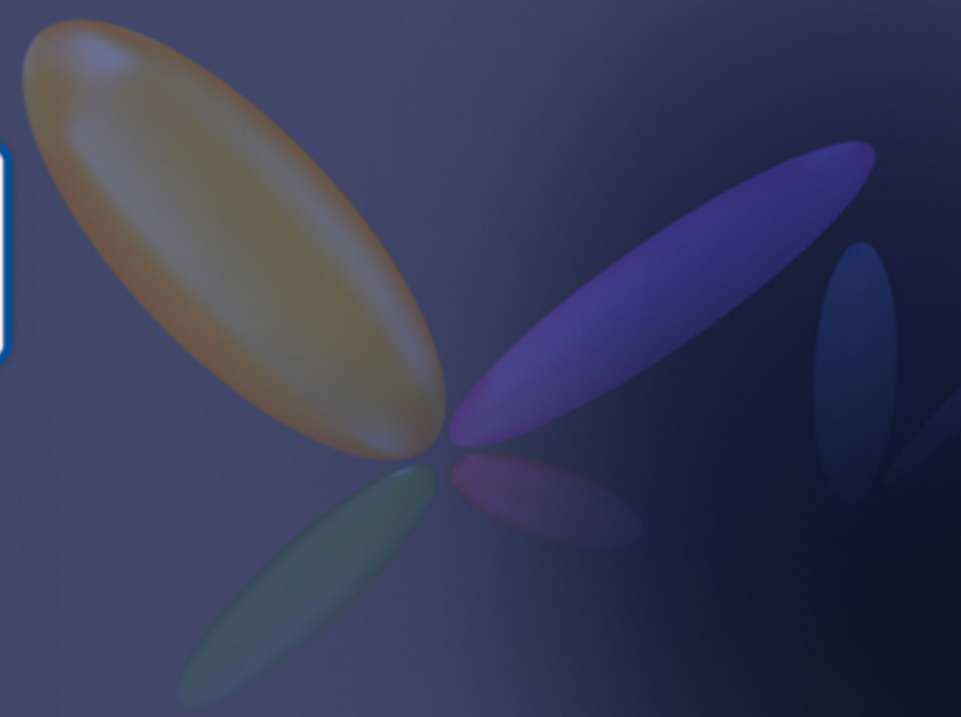

Joint Operation:

XV hosts an interactive platform for publishers to place their products and provides Billing Solutions and Membership integration.

XV also offers our own point-card and diverse billing solutions such as ATM billing, mobile billing, PayPal, and other widely-used Payment solutions.

- ① Billing Solution
- ② Membership
- ③ Game Content
- ④ Consumption
- ⑤ Information

About

XtraVision is founded in 2005 and consists of professional teams with excellent knowledge and background in the online game industry.

We have successfully managed various online game titles on the market and we offer diverse business models such as traditional licensing, publishing, channel and distribution and joint operation, etc.

We are actively in search of partners to join the fun and be a part of our vision:

Share profit with Partners
Bring happiness to Gamers
Be innovative for all!

Portfolio

Client Game:

Currently we are servicing various types and genres of client-based games in Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macau.

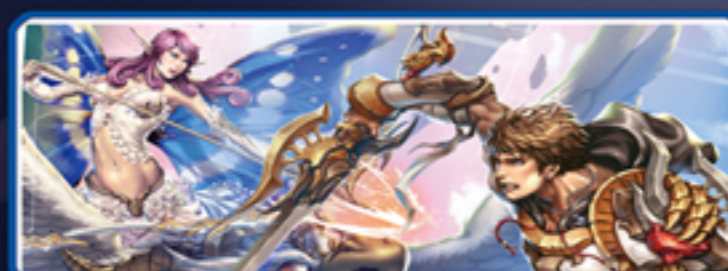

Joint Service:

Currently we are in joint operation partnerships for various types of browser-based titles.

Development:

Currently we have an RSLG browser-based project under development.

For more information,
Please contact:

contact@xv-global.com

